

CV OLIVER BURGIS

After studying business administration at the Friedrich-Alexander University of Erlangen-Nuremberg, Oliver Burgis founded a digital agency and has since been practically involved with IT development and the digitalization of business processes. He already acquired the theoretical foundations for this during his MBA postgraduate studies.

Together with Christoph Ruoff, Oliver Burgis founded the debt collection company atriga GmbH more than 20 years ago and led it to the top 25 in the highly competitive and fragmented German market for receivables management.

Since the foundation of axytos GmbH in 2019, Oliver Burgis is responsible for IT and processes as CTO.
